Company Profile

Founded in 1946, Stripmatic Products Inc. supplies high-quality, split-seam bushings, spacers and tubular parts to various industries. The two major markets they currently serve are the automotive and heavy truck industry. In the automotive markets Stripmatic parts are used in chassis, frames, suspension bushings and seat frames. In the heavy truck market Stripmatic parts are used mainly on the axles "spider" assembly and suspension systems. Wrapped bushings also have applications in conveyor chain systems, appliances, lawn and garden implements and agricultural equipment. This is a women owned and operated business.
